When The Trustee Has To Give Information?

Bill Lexmond, Managing Director, UBS AG, Wealth Planning

Trust information is now a major area of interest and also becoming a highly debated issue both in UK and other Common Law Jurisdictions.

1. What is 'Trust Information'?
2. What is normally available and to whom?
3. Can a Settlor safeguard information?
4. What about Beneficiaries who want to know because:
 - They are disappointed in the trustees and considering making a claim against the trustees
 - They need to comply in a criminal or civil suit.

Trustee Investment: Controlling Investment Risk

Lee Chiwi, Chief Executive Officer, British & Malayan Trustees Ltd

1. Selection of Investment advisors and/or discretionary investment managers.
2. Aspects of Trustee's Policy Statements.
3. Monitoring of the performance of the investments.
4. Where underlying investment companies are under the trust.
5. Can the trustees be exonerated?

Risk Management: Trustees Conflicts of Interest

Mark Lea, Partner, Lea & White International Lawyers

1. When a trustee is in conflict of interest?
2. More than one in the same group of introducer/bank/investment advisor/investment manager/trust company, etc.
3. Corporate trustee and underlying companies.
4. Multiple trusts: connected trustees.
5. Solutions and Consequences: reliance on the trust clauses.
6. Waivers and applications to the Court.
7. Divorce and Trusts - increasing number of trustees are being involved in the consequences of divorce. Exploring both the onshore and offshore prospectives.
